

[What's dynamic website and how to create it?

Dynamic Web sites are flexible and potent creatures, more accurately described as applications than merely sites. Dynamic Web sites.

- 1) Respond to different parameters
- 2) Have a memory
- 3) Almost always alter html form
- 4) Often have interface where administrator can message

What is constant in php and give an example?

Constants are like variables, are used to temporarily store a value but Constants its value cannot be changed during run-time.

to create a constant, you use the define () function: define ('NAME', value);

to print it: echo 'Hello, ' . USERNAME.

List the most common methods in html form and distinct between them?

The $_GET variable is where PHP stores all the values sent to a PHP script via the GET method. And Show The values in the URL. The GET is used for requesting information.

The $_POST stores all the data sent to a PHP script from an HTML form that uses the POST method. The POST method is used when an action is expected. => $_POST []

List down the steps to connect php with mysql and explain 2 of them in details?

- 1) The first step for interacting with MySQL connecting to the server=> mysqli_connect() Function.
- 2) After successfully connected and selected a database, you can start executing queries by mysqli_query().
- 3) Retrieving the Result using => mysqli_fetch_assoc().
- 4) Free the result from the memory using => mysqli_free_result().
- 5) Close the connection using => mysqli_close()

What is cookie and why it is used in php and give an example?

cookies store data in the user's Web browser.

It's used to track users and store data in user web browser.

Can be created via the setcookie() function: setcookie (name, value);

-Question about the Attack and how protect that?

Attack:

- 1) XSS Attacks
- 2) SQL injection Attacks

Protect:

- 1) By validate data by type
- 2) By validate file by type